MOONRAKER and AURORA

The Moonraker and Aurora are the culmination of Devon's long history of Volkswagen Conversions.

Little needs to be said about the Volkswagen Transporter with its enviable reputation for reliability, outstanding quality, superb ride and handling and all at a competitive price. Today's Transporters are available with a choice of engine size in both petrol and diesel and have power steering as standard. There is an extensive choice of factory fitted options not normally available on other motor-caravans. You can also have automatic transmission and of course there is the Syncro permanent four wheel drive version for a real go anywhere motor-home.

The Moonraker utilizes the traditional V.W. layout, so popular in Moonrakers since the seventies. The kitchen, fridge and wardrobe are along the offside behind the driver and the rear seat is across the back. Unlike most V.W. conversions the seat is a full 4ft in width, this pulls out in one easy action to make a large 6ft 3in by 4ft double bed. There are lap and diagonal seat belts for both the rear occupants and the front passenger seat is fitted with a swivel.

The Aurora is an altogether different layout and comprises a fully equipped rear kitchen with two single beds in the front. This allows access through both the rear and side doors and the forward facing rear seats are conveniently situated directly behind the cab. Both are again equipped with lap and diagonal seat belts. Both cab seats swivel to make a dinette in the front and a privacy curtain is fitted enabling the interior to be used as two separate compartments.

Both the Moonraker and the Aurora come fully equipped with stainless steel 2 burner hob with grille and matching sink, a large 60 litre capacity fridge, mains hook-up, auxiliary battery and charger.

The Moonraker and Aurora range offer a comfortable and dependable motor-caravan fitted out to Devon's traditional high standards and are both a joy to own and a pleasure to drive.
